Episode 24

Welcome to the Business Oracle podcast with me, your host, Ayesha Durrani. I'm an astrologer, business mentor and founder of the seven figure global brand Oath Oracle. In my work, I empower rebel soul entrepreneurs to change the world with their mission in medicine, create overflowing wealth and prosperity by doing their passions in this world and stand tall in their legacies.

This is my passion, and I'm so grateful to share it with you today. So thank you so much for tuning in and listening. And let's get into today's episode.

Welcome to another episode, my love. So glad to be back with you. I have officially started my four month soul sabbatical. I'm going to do an episode all about this, ahhh, I got overflowing with podcast episode ideas at the moment.

I just came back from the beginning of my soul sabbatical, which was two weeks in British Columbia, Canada, where I basically grew up and spent most of my life. And I had the honour and pleasure to do public speaking at Bass Coast festival and share all about the Age of Aquarius, as well as performing on stage for the first time in like three years as a dancer doing improvised freestyle dance.

And it was so fulfilling. I feel so inspired, I feel so rested and rejuvenated, and I just am like hitting the ground running. I have so many ideas and so much overflow to share with you all.

Today's topic is about one of my favourite topics, one of my biggest, biggest obsessions in astrology for the last over 20 years, and that is the North Node. And the precise topic we're talking about today is the North Node entry into Aries. This is a huge deal, guys. The North Node is the point of future destiny and it's on an axis, which is the South Node of past life karma on one side and the North Node a future destiny on another side.

They enter a new sign every 18 months and for them to go all the way around the zodiac, they travel for 18.6 years. This is so, so, so significant because it is a point of destiny, and when we follow the point of destiny - and what I mean by follow is embody the highest expressions of that sign, deeply explore and learn to understand that archetype in that sign, whether we have placements in that sign or not.

It's almost even more important when we don't have placement in that sign. Well, it's important in a different way, but it's giving us the key to aligning to our individual destinies as well as our collective destiny. We're being invited to cultivate, deepen and embody those exact qualities, as well as understand the less desirable qualities of that sign so that we can embody its highest expression to an even greater and more impactful degree.

Then we also have the South Node in Libra. So whenever the North Node is in a sign, the South Node is always in its opposite sign and opposite signs in the Zodiac wheel, which is a circle, create an axis and there are basically sister signs that share certain things. They share certain topics, even though they're opposites, they're almost two sides of the same coin in a way.

So the previous cycle that we were in, which is very important to understand as well, because we want to integrate and land those breakthroughs of that previous cycle. The North Node was in Taurus and the South Node was in Scorpio. That is an axis that has to do with money, resources, sexuality, sensuality and power. It's just that the way that Taurus and Scorpio express power, explore power, use and handle power and resources is very different.

And they rule different kinds of resources. So Taurus rules are material possessions and things like saving, stacking cash and stability, where Scorpio is a little bit more 'liquidate my cash and put it all on red 23' or 'become a millionaire because I bought Bitcoin 13 years ago' and it's not as connected to our labour.

Whereas Taurus was more about stacking steadily and like in a way more predictably, creating predictable stability for ourselves through having a certain sense of discipline, through being consistent and that kind of like feeling of being grounded and supported by money in a way that doesn't blow out our nervous system where the Scorpio Energy can be like, I don't have money to invest in my business, so I'm going to get a credit card, which is exactly what I did.

My North Node in my natal chart is in the house of Scorpio. I'm going to get a credit card so that I can work with the people I want to work with and transform into a six and seven figure business owner, which is what happened. They rule resources in a different way.

So that's the period that has ended and we're now entering into a brand new nodal axis activation, a brand new nodal cycle of destiny and karma. The North Node being in Aries is so exciting, it's so invigorating and it's going to be so refreshing for us as individuals and as our collective tapestry, as a soul family that we are here on Earth.

What it means to embody the highest expressions of Aries is that we are being called to embody: boldness, taking inspired action and going headfirst into what we feel called towards. Aries is the Ram and Aries rules the head. Every sign rules a body part, Taurus rules the throat, Aries rules the head. We can literally align to Destiny by taking this information very literally and giving ourselves head massages, taking care of our scalps, like using a gua sha on our face.

I know that sounds really silly as a way of aligning to destiny, but for me that's been a very easy way to quickly get in alignment in a very accessible and useful way that is available to us at all times. So the body part thing is an interesting way of working with and aligning to astrology and feeling those energies.

Aries is a sign of courage. It's the sacred warrior archetype and it's the archetype of the divine masculine. And with Chiron also being in Aries at this time, Chiron, being the wounded healer archetype, we are healing around masculine energy.

And this is regardless of our gender. For those who are nonbinary, gender non-conforming, etc. the way that I think of masculine and feminine energies is like elements. So just like how everything is made of earth, water, fire and air, everything is also made of masculine and feminine energy. The masculine principle or the Yang principle is about action.

It's about penetrating into the world with our will, with our ideas, with our inspirations. And it's also about structure as well as protection. So it's also calling us to reflect on what we want to be a warrior for. What do you stand for? What are you willing to take a stand for? Are you willing to stand up for yourself? Are you willing to advocate for yourself?

A really big theme of this is the Self with a capital S. So the axis of Libra and Aries is the axis of self and other. Self and other. What it's telling us with the South Node being in Libra, which is the sign of the other, it's a sign of marriage, it's a sign of partnership. Libra is the scales. The symbol of Libra is the scales, it's the only symbol in the Zodiac wheel that is an inanimate object. Every other symbol is an animal or a person. Libra is an inanimate object. It's a very objective sign. It's an air sign. It's about communication.

The thing with the South Node is when we talk about the sign, when in the way that I work with it, I don't speak for other astrologers. When I talk about the sign that the South Node is in, I focus more on the shadow potentials of that sign, because that's one of the main things we want to learn from and be aware of. Because as the South Node enters into a certain sign, it's bringing up karmic residue, our own karmic residue, like multiple lifetimes of karmic residue, everyone else's karmic residue.

And it's kind of like this big broom, and this broom is sweeping up the residue in order to clear out this archetype for the whole collective, as well as in a certain area of our chart, which is the next level of understanding this. You have houses with Libra and Aries and there's very specific ways of taking these activations and using them to actually quantum leap you into being on a timeline of being more fully in embodied and anchored and living and embodying your destiny and self actualizing.

So this broom of passive karma is sweeping up this karmic residue and it's actually getting in our eyes. The crazy thing is, it can be easy enough to say, yeah, I'm going to, you know, live for myself and take action with the North Node in Aries. But the presence of the South Node there is actually tempting us. It's actually putting our patterns around the less desirable, less healthy expressions of a sign. It's putting them right in our face. It's actually bringing them up within us and within everyone we know so that we can see them and clear them.

But we may not realize that's happening because we're not, many of us are not, intentionally working with the Nodes. So what this means is we want to watch out for, we know that this 18 month period is a time where Spirit wants us to develop our sense of self, to develop new sets of boundaries and standards, and to take action and pioneer in our lives, even if no one is coming with us. Even if no one is patting us on the back, even if we're not getting gold stars. We're not getting the full plan or, you know, a coach hasn't given us the full blueprint to our first six figure year.

It's like Aries just takes action anyway, guys, Aries takes action anyway, and it learns more from taking action than from waiting for the perfect plan. We can know that. But at the same time, the South Node in Libra is actually bringing up people pleasing tendencies we may have. It's actually bringing up codependency that we may have.

Because Libra values connection, harmony and partnership so much that when it's in a shadow expression, which is more likely or more susceptible and more inclined towards shadow expressions of the sign with the South Node being there, the South Node brings up the shadows so that they can be cleared. And we are the vessel that it's coming up through.

So it's actually moving through our bodies, moving through our emotional bodies or spiritual mental bodies where we actually might be more inclined to partake and engage in codependent behaviours and patterns. Being overly self-sacrificing or having this attitude of I'll be happy if you're happy.

And if everyone in the world is doing that, no one is self actualizing.

What that's actually doing is actually harming our relationships. So if you think you need to bottle up your truth and your sense of self to protect your relationship, it's probably not the right relationship or you're just mistaken about the situation because of your conditioning and past traumas and past relational traumas. So all that stuff is coming up to be cleared, and it's really, really, really powerful.

It's so powerful, guys. And we are going to see the wrong relationships end during this time. Okay. South Node in Libra. The sign of marriage and partnership. The right relationships will thrive through the individuals in that relationship following the North Node and living for themselves. So that it's two people in a relationship living for themselves versus two people living half and half and thinking it's going to make a full thing but it doesn't, because it's two people who are sacrificing what they want.

Or possibly another toxic dynamic is one person sacrificing everything and one person taking everything. Might be kind of that narcissist empath thing or whatever. I'm not an expert on that. I don't teach on that. But that's something we probably see emphasized, exaggerating, being more magnified and amplified with the South Node being in Libra.

Our relationship patterns, whatever they are, are coming up in order to be cleared. Working with this is so incredibly powerful, especially because at the moment, in the beginning of this time, if you're listening to this close to when I first am uploading this (and if you're listening to this in the future, just follow me on Instagram and also my threads on Instagram. I'm always doing updates on there.)

But at the time that I'm recording this Mars, which is the ruler of Aries, which makes it the current ruler of the North Node, is in Virgo at the moment. Which means taking practical action and discerning and actually sometimes taking action as removing ourselves from situations or saying no to things as well. So our No is also needing to strengthen at this time so that our Yes can be that much stronger.

And Venus, which is the ruler of the South Node at the moment, because it's the ruler of Libra, Venus is about to station retrograde in Leo. So within the same week, the Nodes are entering North Node in Aries, South Node in Libra, and Venus stationing retrograde in Leo.

Venus as the ruler of the South Node. Retrogrades are already karmic times. The Venus Retrograde is already a time where relational karmas are coming up in order to be processed. And yes, this can manifest as an ex messaging you or you wanting to get back with an ex. This is like, you know, if you play with fire, you're going to get burnt. Is it truly acting for yourself to do this or is it just succumbing to old patterns?

We are having a major, this alignment of South Node in Libra plus Venus Retrograde in Leo, and Leo is also a sign similar to Aries. That is a fire sign that's associated with the self, the expression of the self,

Q a t h O r a c l e

BUSINESS ORACLE

WITH AYESHA DURRANI

the actualization of the self, living our truly our best lives, choosing that standard for ourselves. And then Venus is in that sign retrograding, which is already a time of karmic process, reexamination of patterns.

And it actually is, both of these things are very, very good for us. This is very good for us. The South Node in Libra and Venus Retrograde in Leo, because it's giving us an opportunity to open up our programming that normally operates in our blind spot, keeping us looping in unsatisfactory patterns within relationships and within our relationship to ourself, which is also a huge focus of this.

And this is going to be able to change the rest of our lives. We can get on a different trajectory when it comes to fulfilling love, relationships and most of all, that relationship with ourselves. So this is an incredibly potent, fertile time. And the other theme of Venus, or another main thing that I love to talk about and work with Venus, is money.

It's interesting how connected these are. If you've ever heard the quote "we only receive the love we think we deserve", it can be very similar with money, guys. So we're rewiring on money, love, beauty and art, and we're being called by spirit to stand up as individuals and self-actualize.

And understand that a world of people who are truly self-actualized, and they're living those heart and soul desires, are people who have a lot to give to other people. Are people who end up being incredible partners, are people who end up changing this world.

So no, choosing yourself is not selfish. Or maybe another thing to say is that selfish isn't bad. It's actually people who are disconnected from heart and soul that end up doing toxic behaviours that harm others. It's no one's true heart and soul desire to harm other people and take away their free will. Okay. This is a really important thing to understand about this, is that people who are self-actualized are going to change this fucking world and end up being incredible, wonderful partners, friends and family members and community members.

So imagine more and more people just awakening, snap, pop, pop, pop, waking up to this actualizing, living for themselves, following their passions and their dreams. And guess what? It's going to work out better than you think. Why? Because when we follow Destiny with a capital D, which is what the North Node is indicating to us... when we follow that, Spirit swoops in with every fucking thing we need for the attainment, the achievement, the receptivity of everything that we desire.

I experienced this back in 2017 when I decided to fully follow my North Node in Pisces. I've been studying my North Node in Pisces for the last 20 years, but I was still gripping on to that South Node in Virgo. I had healing to do. I had release to do, I had integration to do of those beautiful Virgo energies to find their healthiest expression.

But I gave myself fully to my North Node. I doubled in to my North Node and it completely changed my life. And that's why I'm here today. That's why I'm in your ears right now, in your headphones.

And so I'm here today doing this, celebrating a $1,000,000 business, owning a property, doing international public speaking gigs, flying business class everywhere. Having the best relationships I've had in both love and friendship and family. All the things that have been created, it happened from that moment when I chose my North Node.

So as you can see, I am incredibly passionate about this topic and it's one of my biggest obsessions and it's one of the most valuable things to tap into in astrology. And that's why I have masterclasses on these topics. Okay, guys. So if you want to learn exactly how to work with your unique birth chart, plus more specific tangible strategies for aligning to the North Node in Aries, the South Node in Libra and taking advantage of this amazing transit that won't happen again for 20 years from now.

This amazing opportunity, the North Node won't be in that area of your chart again for 20 years and South Node, same thing. This is a very special, auspicious and life changing time that is going to change our individual lives and help us become the collective that creates the new earth.

So check in the caption or the show notes of this for the link to the North Node in Aries Masterclass and the link to the Venus Retrograde in Leo Masterclass, which is so juicy as well. And I also have one of my most successful and signature masterclasses is the Path of Becoming, which is the master. Hundreds of people in this class right now and that is the class about your natal North Node. Okay, so working with the one in your birth chart, the one that you were born with. And the North Node in Aries Masterclass.

If you have your natal North Node in Aries by the way, you're going through your nodal return, which is one of the most... it's a doorway into your destiny. It's something you were not able to access before that opens up for you when the North Node aligns back with your natal North Node. If you are North Node in Aries, highly recommend the North Node in Aries Masterclass.

But for all of us, we are. It's giving us a certain opportunity. It's giving us a certain invitation and this will change the fucking future and open up so much more personal fulfillment in our lives. Those feelings of joy, those feelings of waking up every day on path and on purpose, those feelings of truly living life to the max - which is something Aries is so, so, so good at.

Aries is a sign of risks and action. So if you feel the call to this and you're someone who normally weighs things up forever until it just passes by and you ended up not doing it, which is the South Node in Libra shadow weighing things up this or this, this or this. Should I, should I not? Should I? Should I not? That is classic South Node in Libra Energy.

North Node in Aries energy is I feel the pulse, I feel the impulse, I feel the call. I take action. And because of this, I first launched these masterclasses a few days ago and it was quite a short lunch period. I was traveling and I realized, no, I need to do these classes. And we got a lot less sign ups than normal. Just on that first day we still got signups which was great. Shout out to all those people who paid that full price.

But I got the impulse to slash those prices in half. I just got the impulse to do that. I was like, no, I desire to teach this to a full room. I desire for you guys to be there because I know how life changing this is going to be for anyone who resonates with my work. If you don't resonate with my work and my teaching style, don't come. You're not going to get a lot from my classes if you don't resonate with the way I transmit.

But if you do, I know this is going to be life changing for you. So I slashed the price, which is just something I've never done before. I felt so good about it. It felt like such a bold, powerful, courageous move to do that. And since then, like 66, more people have signed up, which has been so wonderful.

So the link to all these master classes are in the shownotes. It's a great place to get started in my world. Now is the time. Aries is all about now, the now moment. And this isn't about pressure. It isn't like peer pressure for you. I'm telling you what the astrology says, guys. I follow this and it has changed my entire life and that's what I'm here to help you do, if you want that help from me. Right.

So I hope to see you there. I wish you an amazing day, night, week, whatever. And I can't wait to see you in the next episode and hopefully in one of my offerings. Lots of love. Take care.
