Episode 1

Welcome, my love, to the Aquarian Age Business podcast. My name is Ayesha I'm also known as Oath Oracle and this podcast is in dedication and devotion to you and your path of purpose. Aquarian Age Business is not just soul business, soul business being businesses that are the vehicles of our creative and spiritual gifts that are expressions of our soul purpose and create amazing impact and income in this world.

But Aquarian Age business is a new level of this. Aquarian Age business is business that also supports the revolution of this planet and our journey to new earth. So this involves things like decolonizing business, dismantling systems of oppression, and standing strong in our values and ethics, being inbuilt and interwoven into the very structures of our businesses themselves.

This is a space for us to talk about sacred success, for us to talk about your spiritual gifts and the development of our innate gifts into offerings that change people's lives. This is a space where we talk about strategy and structure too. Ultimately, I am a strategist. I love to be focused on things that actually move the needle forward, that actually create results and that actually change not only our lives, but the world.

The Aquarian Age is an age we are moving into. We incarnated at this time right now for a reason, because we are part of the transition crew that is bringing humanity into a new age and a new level of consciousness.

And our businesses as the vehicles of our soul gifts and our soul purpose have a sacred role to play in this. And for us to have the greatest impact possible, this also means that we are highly resourced with a sacred abundance through giving our gifts in this world in sacred and rightful exchange. So here we talk about all kinds of things. We talk about sacred sales, we talk about social media.

(02:04) because that is how I have grown my business from zero to multiple seven figures. This is how I've created over 2.5 million US dollars in revenue since the start of my business and worked with over 3,000 clients completely organically. At the time that I've recorded this, not used ads, sales calls, hopping on trends or censoring myself online because I've always used my platform to speak for social justice.

I may use ads one day and that's why I'm kind of having that little caveat at the time that I'm recording this, we haven't used ads. And if I do try ads, I'll be completely transparent about that and share everything I learned with you guys. So this is simultaneously a space where we talk about social justice and the collective. Simultaneously a space where we talk about creating sacred success and rightful abundance through the offering of our soul gifts through the vehicle of our businesses.

This is simultaneously a space where we talk about leadership, money, magic, creating the lives of our dreams because ultimately it is the integration of our individual dreams with the collective and knowing that your true individual path of your highest timeline is intrinsically connected with the highest timeline of the collective and this is one of the sort of core values and core tenets of Aquarian Age business.

So I'm so excited to bring this. All of the previous episodes of my podcast are also here, and my podcast has always been a top 2 % podcast, rated highly all over the world in the business and entrepreneurship category. And there's tons of value in these older episodes or these past episodes, like how vulnerable is too vulnerable, the shares about my ayahuasca journeys, what if launching isn't hard.

So there's a great mix of like personal storytelling as well as like business strategy. There's hours and hours and hours of high value business strategy that can support you in the past episodes that are also here. So I think I'll stop there for now. I'm so excited to bring this new wave of new episodes that is really coming from my channel and my soul through the way that I have transformed over the last year since my pod, my (04:23) previous iteration of my podcast, I stepped back from and took a break. I had to go on a very powerful transformation for my own self that had to do with a bit of a death and rebirth or a big death and rebirth, really into greater purpose and into a greater devotion to supporting the collective. So I'm really excited to bring you everything I've learned on this journey and just free flow with you all. So I'm so excited. Thank you so much for being here and listening. And this is Aquarian Age Business.
