Episode 47

Hello, my loves. I am recording this podcast on the 17 of September, 2026, and my message for you is this. From now until the end of the year, clarity should not be your goal. The reason why I say this is because the end of 2026 is very, let's say, interesting. And it's very interesting because it ends with us so deep in retrograde season.

Not only is there Chiron, Saturn, Neptune, Pluto, and Uranus retrograde, so some of the bigger cycles and the asteroid Chiron the wounded healer archetype, all of these planets are retrograde. But in October, both Venus and Mercury retrograde through the sign of Scorpio. And Scorpio rules transformation, the occult, shadow work, as well as wealth, power, intimacy, if you know what I'm saying, eros, erotic energy, sex, soulmate union, transcendental union with another soul. This is what Scorpio rules.

So even just Mercury and Venus being in Scorpio, that's incredibly intense. But with both of these retrograde at the same time in Scorpio, Oh lordy. Oh lordy, lordy, lordy. This is about to put us through the ringer, especially those of us who are mystic entrepreneurs, but honestly, no one, no one won't be feeling this energy.

Like this energy is incredibly deep, transformative, confronting, triggering, polarizing because Scorpio is the depth of emotion. Scorpio feels emotion so deeply that it burns it alive. That is why Scorpio's final form is the Phoenix. Scorpio's three forms are the Scorpion, the Eagle and the Phoenix.

And in order to be the Phoenix, you gotta burn all the way down baby. So even though Scorpio was a water sign, there's funny memes that go around like this picture where it's turning on a water faucet, but what's coming out is fire and saying this is Scorpio. That is so freaking true. That is so so so so so true.

Scorpio is the fire sign of water signs. Aquarius is the earth sign of air signs. Sagittarius is the water sign of fire signs. What am I missing? Right, I need an earth sign. Virgo is the air sign of earth signs. So anyway, this is like a note that I took that I was meaning to make a post. Anyway, total tangent.

Scorpio has a lot of fiery aspects to it, even though it is a water sign. And it's because of how profoundly deep Scorpio feels emotion and emotion is sensation. And the depth of that emotion is so intense that it feels like burning. Okay?

Retrogrades bring things back from the past. Mercury is the planet of the mind and that Mercury retrograde will bring memories back from the past. In the sign of Scorpio, which rules our psychology and the basement of the psyche in the underworld of anything we have repressed, forgotten memories that our psyche was not allowing us to experience for our safety as part of our evolution and transformation. This is, like, extremely deep work Mercury retrograde in Scorpio.

Honestly, even just Mercury in Scorpio is a very deep deep deep profound time that transforms us on the level of the mind. So you add that with not just Mercury retrograde, but both Mercury and Venus retrograde. The end of 2026 is about inner transformation. That is what it is about.

It is about confronting aspects of ourselves in this basement of the psyche. It is about confronting parts of ourselves that we have abandoned or rejected because of the intensity and really embracing and calling home shadow parts of ourselves back to us. So a very deep process. And then at the same time is Venus retrograde.

And so the dates, just so you know, Venus is retrograde from October 3 until November 13. Mercury's retrograde from October 24 until November 13. So November 13 is the day that both Mercury and Venus go direct in the sign of Scorpio. Oh, sorry.

Not to make it confusing, but Venus will be in Libra by the time that it goes direct in November. But they are both direct. They are both, but they are both retrograde at the same time, these cycles begin in Scorpio and Venus will travel back to Libra. Okay.

So hopefully that wasn't too confusing. I wanted to just give the bigger picture of the actual length of the cycles and these shadow periods are also going to be very initiatory for us. And we're actually in the Venus retrograde shadow already. People in my membership know this.

And the shadow will actually continue until early next year, so early 2027. So this energy of the retrograde shadows through Scorpio and also touching into Libra, these energies will be present literally until early next year.

So why I decided to record this episode and to tell everyone don't make clarity your goal. It's because I was in a call with some of my students in Cosmic Legacy. And what came through was people feeling like everything's changing. Right?

Everything's changing, almost a sense of overwhelm with how much is moving because a lot is moving in the emotional plane. A lot is moving in the undercurrent of emotions, that subterranean undercurrent of deep emotional energies are moving through and these waves are happening deep in the undercurrents. And that feels very intense and it's very confronting for us, especially when we have mental ideas about what we should be doing instead.

Like, I should be doing this launch or I should be da da da da da. And as mystic entrepreneurs, as soulful entrepreneurs, our spiritual initiations and our spiritual evolution is literally part of our success path. It is literally woven in with our path. They're not two separate things. Your spiritual evolution is not an obstacle to your success. It is the path to it.

But along the way, we have to let go of certain attachments that we may have to things that give us a false sense of security or a false sense of control. And that's a lot of what's going to be coming up. And today also we have Venus in Scorpio square Pluto in Aquarius at three degrees. And that square is all about the confrontation of your new earth purpose, your greater visionary purpose and your contribution in this time of great change and revolution, and the deep desire for security financially, as well as potentially security in love and with attachment.

And so all of the spaces where we are outsourcing that sense of security to things outside of us, sales, metrics, numbers, relationships, everywhere we're giving away our power or that we have been giving away our power is being confronted in this current astrology in a way that is very emotional for us and very intense to experience.

So it's not just in the mental realm of like, oh yeah, I get that. I see that. Like I get this pattern. Cause I know my listeners are very self aware. Doesn't just stop there. It's all the way soul deep, the true gnosis and the tension of that square as we're in the Venus retrograde shadow, and then we're going retrograde in just a couple of weeks, it's just the beginning, baby. It's just the beginning of how the end of this year is going to wring us, as in, when you're wringing a cloth, you know, wringing a sponge, it's going to wring us out of every falsehood that we have tolerated within ourselves, in our businesses, in our relationships because of fear of loss.

And this is also coinciding with Chiron being in Taurus and Venus is the ruler of Taurus. So Chiron in Taurus is wounds around money. I have another podcast episode about that. Let me know if you want another episode about money specifically with Venus retrograde overlapping with Chiron in Taurus, because it's a huge conversation. And really the message of this podcast now is to let you know, if you make clarity like this month or in October or soon, if you make clarity the goal, or if you lock in on big commitments right now, you don't have to lock in on just because you want that sense of like, I just wanna know what's happening. So I just wanna decide on something and just choose it and go.

I'm not saying that that's wrong because if you're getting a soul calling, that's a different story. But you need to be able to discern what is a soul calling and what is you just wanting to lock something in because you think you should be doing something and it makes you feel nervous to not know what's going on. So you wanna lock in on something to gain a sense of control.

These are the exact patterns that these overlapping cycles, Mercury retrograde in Scorpio, Venus retrograde in Scorpio, Chiron in Taurus opposite Venus right now, right? Literally opposite Venus right now. And Chiron is also retrograde. These are literally excavating into the depth of our psychological programming and our spiritual imprints from our lineage because Scorpio rules inheritance.

So some of the things that are active and present in your business, in your relationship with money, and in your relationships with others, because Scorpio is really about the deep relating that we do with others. I'll talk about that in a second more. All of the places where we are out of alignment, out of integrity, lying to ourselves, lying to others. We never want to admit that we lie because we're honest people.

We identify as that, but there's subtle things in our blind spot that are playing out that are not in full congruence with our values. It's just a continual journey, right? Some of these programs are inherited from your lineage because Scorpio rules inheritance and Scorpio is a very spiritual sign. So yes, Scorpio does rule literal inheritance.

So does the eighth house, which is the house associated with Scorpio. They rule literal inheritance. And sometimes Venus retrograde, we get money back from something from the past. So it is possible to actually receive unexpected money during Venus retrograde in Scorpio.

The other thing is possible of having unexpected bills during Venus in Scorpio. So it's all connected because like Chiron is the wounded healer archetype and it's in Taurus, the sign of financial stability. So for sure, there is going to be a crunch around our relationship with money and our relationship with relating, relating with others and attachment. They're going to come up from months and months and months right until the beginning of next year.

So if you make your goal, I just wanna have clarity on my very next step. I'm not saying that you can't. Listen, I'm not saying that you can't. But where it's gonna come from is not gonna be the mind. It's not gonna come from you just wanting control, wanting a feeling of like, I just want to know what I'm doing. And so I'm just gonna decide to do this huge launch.

It's gonna be a bit of a rough time to do a huge launch with double retrogrades. It can be done. I've done it before. Don't be scared if that's what your plan is. You can make anything work. We learn from everything. We learn from anything. It's all experience. And you can actually have some very deep transformational work with your clients during this energy because we're all very open for that transformation right now.

But what I'm saying is making your goal clarity at a time when reality is rearranging over weeks and months, you could have the clarity and crystallize that tomorrow. And yet the circumstances will change by next week because everything is in flux with a double retrograde in the sign of Scorpio. Everything is in flux.

So instead of making, if you make clarity the goal, you'll probably fail. You can have clarity on the next best step. I said that before, and I was like I said that you shouldn't, like, try and have clarity on your next best step before. And I was like, no. No. No. That one actually, I'm gonna take that back. Because what you can have clarity on is your next step, as in literally just the next step. Because Scorpio is a sign of mystery.

So that is why it confronts our desire to know a whole plan and our desire to be like, what's going on? Just give me a plan to follow. Like so many of us have that desire, especially going from being an employee into being an entrepreneur. We had a certain paradigm where we showed up for our work and we did our job and then we went home and we didn't have to, there were a lot of decisions we didn't have to make, right? We just showed up, clocked in and did our thing.

That's not the paradigm that we're in anymore for those of us that are entrepreneurs. So that's going to be something that is confronted within us of that part of us that just wishes someone could just tell us what to do and wishes that someone could just lay out a path for us and lay out a plan for us, or that we could lay out a plan and just follow it.

But the thing is plans require us to know certain things that we cannot know right now. Because Scorpio is a sign of a mystery. Scorpio is a sign of what is hidden. And in addition to that, Pluto, the modern ruler of Scorpio is in Aquarius. Aquarius is also a sign of mystery. People don't recognize Aquarius as a sign of mystery. Aquarius is the visionary of the future. We can have a vision for the future, but we don't know.

We don't know what will happen in the future. Even if you are psychic, even if you're an oracle, we will only ever get certain information, certain streams of downloads, certain visions. We don't know the whole thing. So even Aquarius as a revolutionary, that is mystery. We don't know what's on the other side of revolution. We don't know exactly when the full revolution will be.

So they're in a tense aspect right now because Pluto is in Aquarius at three degrees. Venus in Scorpio, as I'm recording this on September 17, is at three degrees. And then Chiron is in the early degrees of Taurus as well. So that is a really, really powerful group of energies in the fixed signs.

And it's indicating massive change, change that we don't know what's on the other side of it. So instead of making your goal clarity, some invitations I have for you is: connect and pray to know what is the best step for you day by day by day. I'm not saying you can't plan for the future. You have to be responsible, right?

Everyone, all of us are responsible for themselves. I'm not saying just be a helpless, you know, little amoeba that doesn't do anything. I do make plans for the future. I am, you know, running a minimind. I am doing a webinar. I am actually doing a launch during this energy, because it's a launch I've done before and I feel confident in that.

But what I'm saying is don't force something because you think that you should do it. You're gonna gain so much more reward from being deeply in touch with your intuition, deeply in touch with your emotional body and without getting swamped in it.

Be in touch with your emotional body as an alchemist without getting swamped in it. That's really the key. Being deeply in touch with your sex, your sexual reproductive organs, because that's what Scorpio rules. And that is a seat of our creative power, our creative life force energy. That is going to give you so much more reward than you crunching your brain, trying to figure out the best launch.

This is a time for the alchemist to step up. This is a time to heal the deeper patterns that have limited how far you've been able to go. This is the time to do the deeper shadow work on money. Let me know if you want another episode on that. This is the time to do the deeper shadow work on trauma as well. Scorpio rules the way we evolve through crisis.

And then since Venus retrograde is also going back into Libra during this cycle, and then it will be direct again in Libra too, it is bringing up a lot around partnership, reciprocity, balanced give and take in that dynamic dance because it's not just fifty fifty in a frozen static way. Balance and fairness is a dynamic dance that's in movement, right?

And so attachment stuff is coming up as well. And this is a really powerful time to see that the way you do one thing is the way you do everything. So there's patterns in the way that you love, that are showing up in the way that you relate with money, that show up in the way that you relate with business. It's all a mirror for our transformation.

So instead of making our goal, I just wanna figure out what to do. I wanna have clarity because there's been a lot going on. I'm feeling a lot. We're feeling a lot and not only that, but Mars is in Cancer.

So Mars in Cancer is like that, that is a whole other story. I have a whole thing about that in my membership, but that is something that can make us more tired, more emotional, more moody, and make our energy, our drive and motivation more fluctuating. Okay. So we have a lot of deep emotions that need to be addressed.

And if we just go into the mental body and try to live there and try and crunch our brain and figure it out and like force a launch, that's not truly aligned because you think that's what you should do.

You are missing out on the real opportunity which is the transformation of your literally your wealth blueprints, your ancestral and lineage gifts, the way that you embody your power, the way that you run arrows through your system, your erotic life force energy, and actually being so fucking magnetic so that the things that you put out are actually calling clients forward. Okay?

And actually calling collaborators, aligned lovers, aligned friends, and community forward. We're all being initiated more into our new earth leadership gifts and our visionary path. And that's gonna also mean letting go of the things that provided an illusion of security. And then that in turn is going to trigger the parts of us that are gripping onto those things.

Chiron in Taurus, Venus retrograde in Scorpio. Venus is the ruler of Chiron because Venus is the ruler of Taurus. So there's a lot of layers to it.

If you wanna know exactly how this activates your chart, I have deep trainings on each of these with specific teachings so that you can understand how Mercury retrograde, Venus retrograde, Chiron in Taurus, Pluto in Aquarius, how these are activating your chart and the greatest opportunities for you as a business owner, a creative, a healer, a mystic for actually working with the cosmos instead of trying to fit the square in the circle, trying to force stuff because you see coaches doing it online or whatever.

Because there's a reason why that doesn't work. Regurgitating other people's stuff, trying on other people's strategies when they don't align for you. There's a reason why that only works randomly and it's because you don't know about the true alignment that's going on underneath. So when you work with these cycles and you understand and dedicate these final months of the year into transforming into your most powerful, wealthy self, the visionary leader, and allow that transformation process instead of hinder the process that's trying to happen because of attachments to certain ideas that we have about how it should be.

That's when you're really cracking open on your purpose path and the prosperity that is aligned for that path as well. And there's something really special that I am running in October, which is a money and sales shadow work program. Money and sales shadow work, the retrograde recode.

This is a standalone program valued at $333. And I just decided yesterday that it will be gifted to everyone in my membership because we are on this journey together. We've been working with the astrology together all year with the specific activations to our chart. And it's been fucking magical, the breakthroughs that people are having doing business in alignment with the stars.

So I decided to gift this to my membership. So you can buy that program for 333 or you can just get it as a bonus in my membership, which is under $100 a month. And there is no contract, so you can come for a month, but it doesn't align with you, easy to cancel and not continue your journey if it's not your cup of tea. I'm so excited because I just know the power of this time, and I'm so passionate about sharing these transmissions with people in this time that when we allow this transformation, it's what changes everything.

It's what changes everything. And so many people are staying on the surface level of things where they're feeling control slipping. They're feeling triggered by the state of the world when it comes to resources and scarcity and money, which is exactly what I and every other astrologer predicted with Chiron in Taurus, right? Like economic things, resource things, food issues, like what we're seeing in The United States, like all of this and any astrologer could have told you, right, about Chiron in Taurus.

So this is triggering people and that is making people's knee jerk reactions kick in on, okay, how do I make money? How do I make sales? What's the plan? What's the launch? They're staying on a shallow surface level, and the real alchemists are unlocking the opportunity underneath. Scorpio is the deep diver. Retrogrades are the deep recoding, rewiring. And that's what reverts us into a more wealthy and powerful timeline.

Oof. So I'm so excited. I'm so excited to go deeper inside of the money and sales shadow work program because this is so connected to all the blocks around that. Thank you for listening.

Shout out to everyone in the Star Stream. You know already we've been going so deep this year and in the last few months, and the journey is just beginning in so many ways.

So thank you for being a listener to the podcast. Let me know what you wanna hear, and the links are below if you want to step into the StarStream membership and get the bonus money and sales shadow work program. Thank you for listening. Take care.
